Did you know that MDC has a Military Science Department that offers Army ROTC to qualified Miami Dade College Students?

Army ROTC is an elective curriculum you take along with your required college classes. It prepares you with the tools, training and experiences that will help you succeed in any competitive environment. You will have a normal college student experience like everyone else on campus, but when you graduate, with a four-year baccalaureate degree, you will be a Commissioned Officer in one of the components of the Army.
