

the baby, how she met Diego, and the affair between her husband and sister. All the feelings she get from this she expresses in her painting.

Not many married woman would say that her worst mistake in life was marring her husband, but Frida did. That was Frida, she needed to vent her feelings, and for our benefit, she did painting.