Miami, Florida – September 29, 2011 -This fall, thousands of teams from around the country will be participating in the Side-Out Foundation's Dig Pink® National Breast Cancer Awareness Rally. This year Miami Dade College will promote breast cancer health awareness in our community as well as raise funds for further research.

Dig Pink events give spectators the opportunity to become involved by making donations to the cause. These donations can be made online http://www.side-out.org/application/ous/fundraising_page/46057

Admission will be free for everyone and donations will be accepted at the door. Proceeds from all donations will benefit the Side-Out Foundation, a national 501(c)(3) non-profit organization located in the Washington, D.C.

For more information about the event, please contact Alysia Dyer at adyer@mdc.edu

Miami Dade College Department of Athletics prides itself in the sponsorship of academic development and promotion of sports. The teams have earned a total of 33 NJCAA titles, including 13 in women's sports.

Miami Dade College recognizes that intercollegiate athletics and athletic competition for talented students is an integral part of the overall educational process and mission of the college. The intercollegiate athletic program at Miami Dade College strives to enrich the lives of participants by providing quality coaching, facilities, and support services, with equal treatment and resources available to all participants, regardless of race, gender, religion, marital status, age, national origin, handicap or financial resources.

The intercollegiate athletic program will work in partnership with its dynamic, multi-cultural community to provide accessible and high quality guidance and direction by keeping the needs of the student-athlete at the center of decision-making. Only the highest standards of sportsmanship and conduct are expected of students, coaches, staff, and administrators associated with the intercollegiate athletic and club sports program at Miami Dade College.
