

New Books – February, 2006

Fiction

QUEEN OF THE UNDERWORLD : A NOVEL Godwin, Gail

After finishing journalism school at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, Emma Gant escapes the grasp of her overbearing, bullying stepfather by setting off for Miami, where a job as a reporter for the 'Miami Star' is waiting for her. Also waiting in Miami is Paul Nightingale, owner of a private club in Miami Beach. Emma and Paul have been carrying on an affair, in spite of the fact that he's a married man.

CELL King, Stephen

King readers have waited for years for a new novel from the master of terror and now, it's finally here. In 'Cell', mayhem is unleashed when a pulse from a mysterious source transforms all cell phone users into homicidal maniacs. A few phoneless heroes try to escape the mayhem everywhere and save the world.

AT FIRST SIGHT Sparks, Nicholas

There are a few things Jeremy Marsh was sure he'd never do: he'd never leave New York City; never give his heart away again after surviving one failed marriage; and most of all, never become a parent. Now living in Boone Creek, N.C., married to Lexie, and anticipating the birth of their daughter, Jeremy is learning to never say never. But just as his life seems to be settling into a blissful pattern, an unsettling and mysterious message sets off a chain of events that changes things forever.

For more information about books and reading suggestions, please contact a librarian @ library@mdc.edu or 305-237-6236.