

Course DescriptionMUL1010 | Music Appreciation | 3.00 credits

In this course, students will survey the history of classical music from antiquity to the modern period, focusing on western music. The curriculum may also integrate a variety of popular and global styles where appropriate. Student learning outcomes: students will discuss and analyze music using terminology appropriate for the course; students will demonstrate fundamental knowledge of the works of significant composers; students will identify connections between music and the other arts; and students will identify historical styles and periods based on instruments and performance practices utilized.

Course Competencies:

Competency 1: The student will be able to demonstrate knowledge of the essential elements of the music by:

1. Identifying and defining the elements
2. Applying knowledge of the elements to various listening activities and performances

Competency 2: The student will be able to demonstrate knowledge of basic music terminology by:

1. Identifying and defining the terminology
2. Applying knowledge of terms through descriptions of live or recorded performances

Competency 3: The student will be able to demonstrate an understanding of various musical styles by:

1. Identifying and describing conventions from different historical periods
2. Identifying and describing conventions from different cultures

Competency 4: The student will be able to demonstrate a comprehension of the techniques and methods used by collaborative artists in music by:

1. Identifying and describing techniques used by the composer, conductor, and performers
2. Relating this knowledge to a performance experience

Competency 5: The student will demonstrate knowledge of music literature by:

1. Connecting significant works and their composers
2. Relating significant works to their historical periods
3. Matching significant works to their various culture

Competency 6: The student will be able to demonstrate an understanding of the listener's role in music by:

1. Identifying appropriate audience etiquette

General Education Learning Outcomes

- Communicate effectively using listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills
- Formulate strategies to locate, evaluate, and apply information
- Demonstrate an appreciation for aesthetics and creative activities