

Course Description

TPP2191 | Mainstage Production – Cast | 1.00 - 3.00 credits

Participation in a major theatrical production as a member of the cast. Main stage productions will be presented publicly to the student body and community. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: Permission of department chairperson.

Course Competencies:

Competency 1: The student will demonstrate basic knowledge of rehearsal protocols by:

1. Defining rehearsal procedures and mechanics
2. Identifying staging procedures and movement patterns

Competency 2: The student will demonstrate an understanding of the plot and assigned character of the performance material by:

1. Relating events in the story to similar real-world events (i.e., personal experiences, historical and current events, either real or imagined)
2. Analyzing the language and speech patterns of the character
3. Identifying the extraordinary dramatic world of the piece

Competency 3: The student will execute the assigned role in production by:

1. Projecting one's self believably into words and action into the imaginary circumstances of the performance material
2. Creating character convincingly in an ensemble relationship with other actors
3. Using the voice effectively as an instrument for characterization to project and deliver assigned text

Competency 4: The student will display analytical and critical thinking skills by:

1. Reading and analyzing the material to be performed
2. Evaluating individual and collaborative efforts in the presentation of the performance material

Learning Outcome

- Communicate effectively using listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills
- Solve problems using critical and creative thinking and scientific reasoning
- Demonstrate an appreciation for aesthetics and creative activities