POLICY TITLE: Full-Time Professional Exempt Non-Contractual and Support Non-Exempt Personnel: Probation and Dismissal

LEGAL AUTHORITY: FLORIDA STATUTE 1001.64; Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (COBRA)

DATE OF LAST REVIEW: 9/29/2005, 6/19/2007, 7/21/2009, 7/19/2011 and 7/16/2013

DATE OF BOARD ACTION: 7/1/1968, 9/6/1972, 9/21/1999, 10/23/2001, 6/24/2003, 9/29/2005, 6/19/2007, 7/21/2009, 7/19/2011 and 7/16/2013

A. INITIAL PROBATION

1. Professional exempt non-contractual (PENC) and support non-exempt (SNE) personnel shall serve an initial 90-day probationary period from the date of initial employment. Prior to the end of this probationary period, the supervisor must evaluate the employee and make a specific recommendation to the Vice Provost of Human Resources, or designee for the continuation of employment beyond the probationary period, termination of employment, or extension of the probationary period. The initial probationary period may be extended up to an additional 90 days upon approval of the area head and in consultation with Human Resources. Any additional probationary period (beyond the initial 90 days) shall not affect an employee's eligibility for benefits programs for which the employee has otherwise qualified. Probation is measured in calendar days and is suspended during official College closings. Full-time employees serve at least one 90-day probationary period.

B. PROBATION FOR CAUSE

1. The College generally follows a process of progressive discipline for full-time PENC and SNE employees, once the employee has successfully completed the initial 90-day probationary period. Depending on the severity of the infraction, this process may include counseling, written reprimand, probation, suspension and ultimately termination for cause. Notwithstanding that the College generally utilizes a program of progressive discipline, more serious disciplinary action up to and including termination may be used on first occurrence.
2. PENC and SNE employees who have completed their initial 90-day probationary period and who are not being recommended for continued employment or extension of the 90-day probationary period may be given two weeks prior notice of dismissal except in those cases where, in the judgment of the College President or designee, circumstances warrant immediate termination.

3. At any time during employment, a PENC or a SNE employee may be placed on probation for a specified period of time not to exceed 180 calendar days based on unsatisfactory performance, upon the written approval of the campus/district area head and in consultation with Human Resources.
4. Representative examples of unsatisfactory performance appear in College Procedure 2410: Performance Standards and Appeal Process for All Full-Time Professional Exempt Contractual and Support Employees.
5. The area head must obtain the written approval of the Vice Provost of Human Resources or designee, before implementing any recommendation(s) for extension of the initial 90-day probation, any subsequent probation, or for the suspension or termination of any PENC or SNE employee.
